MAYO TRAIL GETS HELP FROM FLOYD

$100,000 OF BOND ISSUE TO BE APPLIED ON STATE'S PART FOR ROAD.

Following the example of Boyd, Lawrence and Johnson counties, Floyd county last week got into the bond wagon and made an appropriation of one-half of its bond issue for the Mayo Trail. This amounts to $100,000.

A condition of the appropriation is that the contract shall be let before July 1, 1921.

Pike county has already said she would do her part after the other counties acted and it is now up to her. Pike is the largest and richest of all these counties and will "come across." This insures the building of a great highway through the Big Sandy Valley, the greatest public enterprise, next to the railroad, that has ever been attempted.

The action of Floyd county is reported as follows by the Prestonsburg Citizen:

At the session of the Floyd County Fiscal Court held in Prestonsburg, to the court ordered the sale of $100,000 ten year 5 per cent bonds, the proceeds to be donated to the State Highway Commissioner for the construction of that portion of the Mayo Trail lying within Floyd county. The road is to extend up the Big Sandy Valley from the Johnson county line to the Pike county line, over a route determined by the engineers of the commission.

The order of the court provides that $5,000 of the money from the bonds shall be applied to compensating the engineers who complete laying out the road. The engineers of the State Commission have been working in the routing of the road during the past year.

The court's order also made the gift of $100,000 conditional upon the letting of the contract for the construction of the road not later than July 1, 1921. In the event the contract is not let by that time the gift is forfeited and the money must be returned to the county.

Under the Federal Road Aid law the action of the Floyd Fiscal Court taken to-day creates an obligation on the part of the State of Kentucky to contribute the like sum of $100,000.00 and binds the Federal government to add the sum of $200,000.00 making a total of $400,000.00 to be available for the construction of the Mayo Trail in this county. Judge Ed T. Hill was appointed Trustee of the Road Fund.

Young Louisa Couple Married Last Sunday

A wedding of interest to friends throughout the county was solemnized about noon last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Thompson in Louisa when their daughter, Miss Mary, became the bride of Mr. Roy Thompson. Rev. H. B. Hewlett officiated.

The ceremony was witnessed by members of the family and quite a number of friends of the young couple who were entertained to dinner after the wedding. In the evening the guests accompanied the bride and groom to the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Adams where an elegant supper was awaiting them.

The bride is one of Lawrence county's successful teachers. She is a pretty and charming young lady, the eldest daughter of the County Attorney.

The groom was also a teacher before coming to Louisa where he completed a business course. He is now connected with the store of Adams & Kiser. He is the son of Lindsey Thompson, a well known and is a young man of excellent qualities. We extend best wishes to the young couple.

WAYNE COUNTY COURT APPOINTS DEPUTIES

The Wayne County, W. Va., News says:—Wayne county court house was a bee-hive Monday and Tuesday of this week. County officials elected in November were busy getting a line-up on the work ahead of them. The new county court, made up of H. W. Thompson, J. T. Porter and J. W. Crabtree met in its first session Monday.

The first business taken up was the election of a president of the new court. H. W. Thompson was elected for this office by the votes of the other two members of the court. The new court assumed its responsibilities and transacted business in the interests of the county in a manner which met the unanimous approval of the many citizens who were present.

The appointment of deputies was among the first business disposed of by the court Monday. Charles W. Frazier, who has been appointed in the county clerk's office, was appointed office deputy of Assessor G. W. Staley; Everett Walker was made deputy to circuit clerk, Chas. E. Walker; Jesse Adkins and Miss Willie Smith were named office assistants to county clerk, Hezekiah Adkins; Fred Perry was appointed office deputy to Sheriff Ross C. Brumfield and the following field deputy sheriffs were qualified before the court: Clay H. Williams, William Crum, Ollie Mills, Fred Crabtree and Cleveland Fraley, Illor.

The salary of Cleveland Fraley, jailor, was set at $90.00 a month; Clay H. Williams $25 a month; all other field deputy sheriffs, $85 per month; Chas. W. Frazier, deputy assessor, $115 a month. The salaries of all unexpired office deputies were set at $75 a month.

OLIVE HILL MEN ARE SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Jarvis Newsome, aged 23 years, of Olive Hill, was brought to Ashland and taken to the King's Daughters' Hospital in a critical condition from a bullet wound. He was at his home at Olive Hill and with him was his friend Omar Nelson of Fleming county. As the story goes these two men had had trouble with George and Logan Jesse. They were called from their home yesterday morning early and it is alleged they were fired upon by George Jesse, both of the men being seriously injured. Up to noon today both George Jesse and his brother Logan had not been apprehended. All parties are prominent in Carter county and the trouble was said to be an old grudge. Both Newsome and Nelson are 23 years of age while the Nelson boys are 21 and 23—Ashland Independent.

FORMER MAGOFFIN MAN.

The Grayson Journal says: A. F. Bays, an inmate of the county infirmary, died Saturday night of heart disease. He had been in poor health for several years and was a native of Magoffin county. He came here from Hixson some few years ago and run a shoe repair shop until his health compelled him to give it up. His age was 65 years. The remains were buried Sunday in the cemetery on the hill.

OPERATION ON EYES.

HARBIN-WATSON MEETINGS SUCCEED

The Harbin-Watson evangelistic meetings at the M. E. Church South in Louisa, every afternoon (except Saturday) and every night, continue with increasing interest and with results that are already taking on large proportions. Several responded to the first invitation given for penitents and seekers, and each opportunity presented since that has been taken advantage of by goodly numbers.

That no better preaching has even been heard here is the verdict of all who have expressed themselves within hearing of the writer.

The service for men only Sunday afternoon was a big success. It was the largest gathering of men and boys ever seen in Louisa at a religious meeting. The sermon by Rev. Harbin was exceedingly strong and inspiring. A meeting for women only was held at the same hour at the Baptist Church, conducted by Mr. Watson, the song leader. The congregation completely filled the church and the service is reported as having been very helpful.

Monday night Mr. Harbin preached to women only and Mr. Watson spoke at a meeting for men only at the Baptist Church. Both meetings were well attended.

Mr. Watson is a very capable song leader. In addition to being a good soloist, he is able to get the congregation to sing. As a choir leader he is a success also. His junior choir does remarkably good work under the amount of training possible to give them. Great interest prevails in the contests each evening between the "Reds" and the "Blues."

Lexington Fire Loss Estimated at $800,000

Lexington, Ky.—Damage estimated at from $690,000 to $800,000 was done here Tuesday afternoon by a fire in the retail district on West Main street. The department store of Wolf, Wile & Company was totally destroyed and serious damage was done to the stores of the J. D. Purcell Company and the Kaufman Clothing Company. Fire department officials did not announce the cause of the fire, which was believed to have started in the Wolf, Wile & Company building.

The Wolf, Wile & Company sustained the largest loss, estimated at about $400,000.

SCHOOL BANKING SYSTEM.

The Jenkins News has the following item: Mr. E. L. Swetnam, principal of the Jenkins Graded School, checked up the banking system for year ending 1920, and found that the children in Jenkins have deposited a total amount of $502. This has been done by the children buying stamps of 5c denominations from the teachers, placing them in blank books, and then depositing the stamps in the bank.

The system has been in operation just two months. The principal and teachers started out with the idea of securing a total of $1,000 from the children for the year. They expect now to go far beyond that figure.

Mr. J. G. Long and his corps of teachers at McRoberts have been able to sell nearly five hundred dollars worth of the school stamps. They accepted a quota last fall of $600 for the entire year, but now they hope to double it.

THRIFT WEEK TO BE OBSERVED

JANUARY 17-22 PROCLAIMED AS SPECIAL TIME FOR STARTING SAVINGS.

The birthday of Benjamin Franklin is to be celebrated this year by making the week beginning that day a time for people to make a new start in saving money.

Franklin was the first great American apostle and example of thrift. This is why his birthday is used in connection with such a movement.

The Y. M. C. A., assisted by the Treasury department of the United States, is heading this great campaign to teach America a much needed lesson. This is the most wasteful nation in the world.

Next week is put forward as Thrift Week to get people to join in a great effort to adopt plans of various kinds for saving money, cutting out extravagance, reducing expenses, etc. Let everybody join in this movement.

Dr. F. D. Marcum's Daughter Marries Huntington Man

Miss Eunice Victoria Marcum of Cerro, W. Va., and Mr. J. W. Hicks of Newbern, Va., were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. C. C. Hill on Oakland avenue in Catlettsburg. The bride is the charming daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Marcum of Cerro. The groom is a member of an old Virginia family and is a young man of sterling character and fine business qualifications and is a valued employee of Norville Chambers Shoe Co. of Huntington, W. Va. They had planned a more elaborate affair to take place the 14th of February but owing to the illness of Dr. Marcum, the bride's father, who is now in a hospital, their plans were changed. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Pope, pastor of the Baptist church of Cerro before an improvised altar of ferns and palms. The house was attractively decorated for the occasion. The bride looked beautiful in dark blue with accessories to harmonize. They will return to Cerro after a trip to Virginia and for a time will reside there.—Ashland Independent.

Hi-Y Meeting to be Held Sunday Afternoon

Mr. W. W. Hall, district secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has arranged for a meeting of the boys and young men of the Kentucky Normal College to be held at the M. E. Church South next Sunday afternoon, the 16th, at 2:30.

Mr. Hall will be in charge of the meeting. Rev. Walter Harbin has been asked to make an address and has accepted.

The chief object of the meeting is to organize a "Hi-Y" club, which is a commendable movement. Prof. Byington is co-operating in the effort.

"Liberty Belles" to be in Louisa the 15th

The second number of the lyceum course in Louisa is the Liberty Belles. These young ladies will be here at Eldorado theater Saturday night of this week. This is said to be an excellent number.

The management will run a good picture reel first and make no extra charge for admission. The Liberty Belles program will not start before 8:30 p. m. so as to enable persons to attend after church services.

See particulars of the program on the literature being distributed.

AFTER MURDERER OF PARSONS GIRL

A Subscription of $100 toward defraying the expenses of Pine Mountain Settlement School and other organizations attempting to detect and prosecute the murderer of Miss Laura Parsons, teacher, slain last summer while crossing Pine Mountain, was made at a business meeting of the Louisville Woman's Club.

In discussing the subscription Mrs. H. R. Whiteside declared: "This murder means the spoliation of the womanhood of the State. Unless the culprit can be brought to justice we cannot protect the women of the mountains and given the best years of their lives to go into the mountains and serve those who need them."

"The State of Kentucky cannot allow a crime of this nature to go unpunished," Miss Simpson said. "Accusations against various men have been too lightly dismissed."

Contributions may be sent to Miss Jessie O. Yancey, State Board of Health Building, Louisville, or C. N. Manning, Lexington, treasurer, Pine Mountain Settlement School.

OH, GIRLS! "To give the face a good color," says an exchange, "get a pot of rouge and a rabbit's foot. Bury them two miles from home and walk out and back once a day to see if they are still there."—Southern Telephone News.

EDUCATION CONFERENCE IS CALLED BY SHAWKEY

Charleston, W. Va.—An educational conference for citizens of the state for January 24 by M. P. Shawkey, superintendent of schools, at the request of National Schools Commissioner Claxton, has been announced. Particular attention will be given to present needs—the shortage of teachers and a stunted school budget—at the conference. It was stated.

WEDDING BELLS.

Four of Louisa's attractive young ladies will soon submit to a change in their names and places of residence if reports and signs are not very deceptive. We are not at liberty to give further particulars at this time, and are therefore groaning under one of the great temptations of the newspaper man—to tell all we know.

WILL CUT OUT TOBACCO CROP

Lexington, Ky.—Declaring it to be the intention of the larger manufacturers of tobacco in this country to buy only one half of the present crop of approximately 300,000,000 pounds at lowest possible prices, and when they have secured more than one half to withdraw their buyers from the market, Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell, in a two hours' address, delivered in the Woodland Park auditorium to approximately 2,000 growers, warehousemen, bankers and merchants representing all counties in the blue grass region, advocated a plan of procedure which, he says, represents the difference between ruin and salvation.

He urged, first, that the growers agree unanimously to raise no tobacco in 1921; second, that they determine not to sell any tobacco before April 15, by which time it will be too late to seed beds for plants with which to grow a crop; third, that they sell only one half of the crop over the loose leaf floors after April 15; fourth, that they send the other half to their loose leaf warehouses in their own communities which he redried and put in storage to be held under negotiable warehouse receipts until November or December; fifth, that an organization for the orderly, business-like carrying out of this program be perfected, and, sixth, that there be no lawlessness.

Almost All Favor Cut-Out. At the conclusion of the Congressman's address, which had been most attentively received, a newspaper man stepped forward, saying that the press would like very much to have the sentiment of the gathering on the question of a cut-out, and asked that all in favor of growing no tobacco in 1921 indicate by rising. The audience came instantly to its feet. It was practically unanimous. It seemed as if there remained sitting no more than 40 out of 2,000.

Congressman Cantrell told his hearers that including the stocks in the hands of the manufacturers, which he fixed at 267,000,000 pounds, including the residue of the low grades of the 1919 crop in the hands of dealers, which he estimated to be 75,000,000 pounds, and including the present crop of 300,000,000 pounds in the hands of the growers, there is a total of 642,000,000 pounds of burley tobacco in the country. He stated that there has not been in 15 years so large a stock of this tobacco unmanufactured on January 1. He told them if they would raise a crop in 1921 there would be at the end of the year a surplus of 700,000,000 pounds, which would be three years' supply, and that for the succeeding five years, because of that supply, tobacco would not average more than 5 cents per pound.

"The best thing on earth we could do," he said, with much emphasis, "would be not to sell a pound of this tobacco until next December, after having cut out the 1921 crop."

GEORGE HAYES KILLED AT WILLIAMSON MONDAY

A union miner named George Hayes, and possibly another man, were blown to atoms by an explosion of nitroglycerine or other high explosive Monday night, near the Gates plant of the Crystal Block Mining Company. He had recently made frequent trips to Fort Gay and Louisa. He had been a striker for several months. A fund was raised to send his wife and children back to North Carolina, from whence they came.

GIRL ACCUSED OF SLAYING MAN

TRAGEDY IS ENACTED IN HAZARD USED—GIFT REVOLVER HOTEL, CHARGED.

Hazard, Ky., Jan. 6.—John Sexton, 55 years old, former Chief of Police of Hazard, was shot to death almost instantly this morning in the room of Miss Mary McIntosh, 22 years old, waitress in the Beaumont Hotel here. The girl, found with a smoking revolver in her hand, was placed in jail. She has refused to make any statement.

A shot rang out in the hotel at 9 o'clock. Sexton was found lying on the floor of the girl's room. A bullet had entered the back of his head and passed entirely through. The report that he had a knife in his hand has not been verified.

The revolver, which was turned over to the officers, had one empty shell. The weapon had been given to the girl by Sexton recently, it is said.

Sexton was married and a widow and three children survive. The girl is an orphan and has been employed at the hotel several years. An uncle, Jerry McIntosh, lives here.

Mrs. John T. Dean Dies At Ohio Home

Mrs. John T. Dean, of Rock Camp, Ohio, passed away at five o'clock on Thursday evening after a prolonged illness dating from an attack of influenza that she suffered one year ago this winter.

Mrs. Dean was a native Kentuckian. She was born in Lawrence county December 12, 1846, the daughter of William and Melissa Large, of Irad. She was regarded as a most estimable woman and had hosts of friends both in Kentucky and Ohio who appreciated in her character the deep Christian principles that controlled her life.

Sincere sympathy is felt for her aged husband, 88 years of age, who has been for a long time an invalid, and for her devoted family of five sons and three daughters, who will feel keenly their loss of a superior wife and mother.

The sons surviving are H. S. Dean, of Huntington, W. Va., William Dean, and Thomas Dean, of Ironton, Ohio; J. C. Dean, of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Kinney Dean, who has remained with the parents at Rock Camp, near Ironton. The daughters are Mrs. Mussetter and Mrs. Quillen, of Ashland, and Mrs. Genoa Chaffin, of Pinkerton, O. Several grand children survive, one of whom, a lad of eight years, has always lived in the home of his grandparents.

Mrs. Dean also leaves two brothers, Bert Large, of Chillicothe, and Thomas Large, of Columbus, Ohio, and one sister, Mrs. Genoa Chaffin of Pinkerton, Ohio.

Mrs. Dean was a member of the M. E. Church South of which she became a member at the age of 14 years and lived a Christian the remainder of her life.

The remains were laid to rest in the Leatherwood cemetery near the M. E. Church of Leatherwood, Ohio. Rev. Harvey of West Virginia had charge of the funeral.

Taylor Muncy Trial in Wyoming County

Williamson, W. Va.—Judge R. D. Bailey, in court here, granted a motion for a change of venue in the cases of Taylor Muncy and "Dutch" Frost, who were indicted on a charge of having killed Ervine Elkins a striking miner, and having wounded his brother Joe when in a fight on a Norfolk & Western Railroad train near here, November 23. The trial will begin in Wyoming county May 9.

PRICE OF CRUDE OIL DECLINES

The fears of local oil men and citizens have been realized. A reduction of 25 cents per barrel has been announced in the price of Somerset and Somerset light oil, affecting all the oil produced in the Big Sandy Valley. This brings the two grades to $4 and $4.25. Pennsylvania grade lost 35 cents per barrel and Corning was cut to $3.75.

Reductions in Western oil occurred some time ago. No reason is given except the general tendency to lower prices in all lines, thus giving the opportunity for cutting the price of oil. Production and wildcat work will slacken under this downward tendency.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

Louisa Board of Trade will meet in regular monthly session on Monday evening, January 20th, at 7 o'clock at the City Hall. Community service will be discussed and projected. All citizens interested in public progress should attend and participate.

N. M. ORR, Secretary.

MRS. QUEEN RECOVERING.

Mrs. Hattie Queen, of Fallsburg, is recovering nicely after a surgical operation and was dismissed on Saturday morning, going to the home of her brother, Charles Lambert, where she will remain for a while before returning to her home at Fallsburg.—Ashland Independent.

NEW OIL FIELD FOUND IN STATE, IS BELIEF

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 6.—A new oil field of considerable proportions in Elliott county is a probability in the opinion of Willard R. Jilison, director of the Kentucky Geological Survey, who discovered an anticline or upfolding, which he traced for eight miles along its length and for a width of three miles. A geological map of Elliott made about 1890, does not show either the fault or anticline, although Professor Jilison said it is plainly observable and sharply defined along Little Sandy River, for which he has named the fault.

There is a displacement of 185 feet and the "reversal" measures 225 feet from the top of the Pottsville conglomerate on the Little Sandy. This "reversal," making the "dome" of the anticline, is what oil men desire to know about as it reveals to them something of the area and depth within which oil forced up by water and gas, may be tapped and held, awaiting the driller. No folding in the Irvine-Paintsville fault, some twenty miles southward, has so great a "reversal."

There are fairly good oil wells within five miles of this anticline and at the edge of Lawrence, one of the newly developed fields, at Martha is a pipe line.

The anticline and fault extend from Fulton Fork of the north fork of the Licking River, not far from the Rowan county line, nearly to Newcomb creek and takes in both the open and middle forks of Little Sandy.

While small anticlines are not uncommon in Kentucky and are frequently discovered, none of these dimensions was to have been expected to elude the eyes of geologists, who have been roaming the hills and fields of Kentucky since 1915 in the interest of oil operators. Professor Jilison was attracted to the fault while he was in Elliott county on an entirely different mission and he remained there until he had mapped it and photographed some of the typical features.

READJUSTMENT HITS THE COAL INDUSTRY

Nothing would be gained by camouflaging the readjustment which has hit the bituminous coal industry. The blow came at a time when weekly production was right at the twelve-million-ton peak. Perhaps it would be equally vain to attempt to predict how drastic the process will become before the tide turns toward normal operations. But like the weatherman, all of us are inclined to do a little forecasting. This is doubtless due to the mystic trait in our make-up. So let us sum up briefly the pro and con elements just for luck:

(1) The lakes are closed, but the railroads are still running coal to the Northwest; (2) There is a lull in export shipments, but Europe is still short, and is burning the cargoes sent overseas about as fast as unloaded; (3) American industries are at low ebb, indicated by the lack of steam coal orders and by the low level of the stock market, but wages and raw materials are coming down to a point permitting mills and factories to resume; (4) Public utilities, while cutting the corners, must have coal to do business; (5) The railroads are on the mend, having about caught up with the lessened demand for transportation, including the movement of coal—in fact loading in some mine quarters is not up to placements; (6) The financial condition of the country as a whole is sound, no industry being more so than coal mining, due to the money made during and since the war, the coal in the mine remaining stock in trade without deterioration; (7) The public has got over its buying freak, and is putting more money into the banks, as are also the merchants after liquidating their high-priced stocks by special sales. In fine, all of us—a hundred million strong—are getting down to brass tacks, just as Europe is trying to do in imitation of thrifty Belgium and Czechoslovakia. It now looks as though the coming of the New Year will witness the passing of the general crisis in this country, although the coal industry can hardly hope for the turn of its tide so soon, as it was the last to be hit.

WESTERN COAL COMPANY

KENTUCKY POOR BECAUSE SCHOOLS BELOW STANDARD

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 8.—Kentucky has $19 invested in school property for each child of school age in the State, according to a statement given out here by superintendent of Public Instruction George Colvin. He compared the investment to that of Illinois, Ohio, and Indiana, the States directly north of Kentucky, which he said had an average of $76 per pupil invested in school property.

The average for the United States is $55 per pupil, Mr. Colvin said. Expenditures per pupil for education in the public schools of the State totals $9.76, according to the statement, while the average for the three States across the Ohio river to the north is $27.60 and for the United States $22.76.

Kentucky pays $13.56 per pupil in attendance for teaching as compared with $24.54 by Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, and $22.76 average for the United States.

Kentucky's per capita wealth, he added, is $977, the per capita wealth of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio is $2,124 and of the United States $1,965. "Are our schools below standard because we are poor," he asks in conclusion, "or are we poor because our schools are below standard?"

KEEP YOUNG

People with bad backs and weak kidneys are apt to feel old at sixty. Many old folks say Doan's Kidney Pills help them keep young. Here's a Louisa case. K. F. Vinson, Prop. of boarding house, Water St., gave the following statement December 4, 1916: "Whenever I have a spell of kidney trouble or rheumatic complaint, I get a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at the Louisa Drug Store Co. and just a few fix me up in fine shape. My back gets lame when I overlift and I am subject to this rheumatic trouble after taking cold. This generally strikes me in the limbs from my hips down, acting like sciatica. The kidney secretions are then too free in passage, bothering me at night. This breaks my rest. All of the symptoms disappear, however, after I use Doan's Kidney Pills and I feel like a different person—strong and active." On December 3, 1920, Mr. Vinson said: "I have just as much confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I gave my former statement. Since then I have used them a few times and they have always helped me." 50c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

Old Friends And New.
Make new friends, but keep the old. Those are silver; these are gold. New-made friendships, like new wine, age will mellow and refine. Friendships that have stood the test—time and change—are surely best. Friendship never knows decay. For old friends tried and true, once more we our youth renew. But old friends, alas! may die. New friends must their place supply. Cherish friendship in your breast. New is good, but old is best. Make new friends, but keep the old. Those are silver; these are gold.

Mighty few of us who are not great are able to realize how great people have achieved their greatness. But one thing they will tell you during their climb from obscurity, they were never able to bet on a sure thing. Or, perhaps, we should say that their greatest achievements were made through taking a chance.

There are hundreds of men in this country today who have splendid ambitions and the ability to realize them if they only had the confidence in themselves to go ahead and do. No one ever learns until he tackles a job that he thinks is a little beyond him. The greatest things are accomplished by those who jump into a hard task—burn their bridges behind them and then work out the best way possible.

George Elliot at one time wrote: "No great deed is done by falterers who ask for certainty."

Man may have wonderful visions, but he must have courage to match his visions or he will achieve nothing.

Most of us are not nearly grateful enough for books. That may be because a lot of us don't really know how or what to read. If you'll stick to the books that have been written by men in the past fifty or one hundred years and that are still popular and considered among the best by the people who know, you will not go far wrong. This doesn't mean that good books are not being turned out every day, and it is well to read recent books occasionally to learn the trend of the times. However, if you want really good literature better not try expending yourself in untried fields, but take the results of another's explorations.

A great many of us do not know how to read either. We think the only part of a book is the plot it contains and with many authors the plot is the least of their worries. They may have a certain character to bring out and they use the plot simply as a tool to show up that character. It is interesting to read a book with the idea in mind of trying to discover the author's purpose and the means he has used to achieve that purpose.

Good books help you by giving you the necessary inspiration to help yourself.

There may be people in the world who do not feel the need for privacy, but with most of us there are times when we like to get away by ourselves and think and dream undisturbed. When such times come every person should be allowed the opportunity to fulfill his need and every member of his household should respect his privacy and hesitate about disturbing it the same as they would scorn the idea of reading his personal letters. If all of us could have the opportunity of getting away by ourselves occasionally we would probably be saved many a fit of temper, a headache or any number of unpleasant things that result from frayed out nerves.

Privacy doesn't necessarily mean being in a room by oneself. If you see some one deep in thought, isn't necessary to "bring them down to earth;" let them dream unless there is some urgent need for their attention. None of us like to have our very brains peered into, yet some people have that unhappy faculty.

Life is made up of just so much time. Be careful not to waste it.

Somehow we all of us like to "kid" ourselves by labeling our mistakes—experience.

We are greeting another New Year not knowing what it may bring us, but whatever it brings of good or ill fortune let us resolve to bear it bravely.

UNUSUAL CONDITION

Texas Lady Suffered With Pulling and Aching Pains in Her Back, Which Cardui Relieved.

Houston, Texas.—Mrs. C. D. Cook, of 1912 Whitty Street, this city, recently said: "About four months after my marriage, I began suffering much pain, and knew that my condition was unusual, but couldn't just decide what was wrong. I had to go to bed. . . ."

"All across my back and hips were pains, pulling and aching, until I could hardly sit up. I stayed in bed a few days. My husband had heard of Cardui, so I told him he might get it. . . . After I had taken Cardui a few days, I was up. I took five bottles and haven't been in bed since for this trouble, for if I have the least symptoms of this trouble I get Cardui and take it in time."

"I have a number of friends who have used Cardui, and they recommend it very highly."

The experience of this Texas lady is similar to that related by thousands of other women.

Cardui is purely vegetable, and mild and gentle in its action. Cardui may be the very medicine you need if suffering with womanly troubles.

Take Cardui.

Uncle Walt's Story

THE UNATTAINABLE

"THERE'S a spot on my back, about the size of a postage stamp, that has been itching all day," said the retired merchant, "and it has caused me more grief than the last attack of rheumatism. I can't reach it with either hand, and I have been backing up against every telephone pole and gatepost, rubbing like a horse with the mange. A man of my social and commercial standing doesn't look dignified while thus engaged, but when a man's back itches, he has to defy the convention, and get relief the best way he can."

"I can understand just how it has worried you," said the hotelkeeper. "The fact that you couldn't reach round and claw the itching place with your fingers kept the matter fresh in your memory and got on your nerves. The pursuit of the unattainable is always more interesting to us than the easier work close to hand. You had your whole person to scratch, and might have bought a currycomb or a quarter, and had a good time, but you couldn't be happy until you had reached the one inaccessible spot."

"A while ago I imagined I had heart disease, and went and saw the doctor. He knows I have money in the bank, and an considered good pay, so he confirmed my worst fears, and made up his mind to have me for his star patient, until one of us pattered out. He threw an awful scare into me, so that I went home sweating ice cold, frenzied lemonade."

"He gave me some medicines and a lot of instructions. Among them was one to the effect that when I went to bed I should always sleep on my right side. He cautioned me over and over again against laying on my left side, and left the impression that if I disobeyed him, I'd wake up some morning to find myself a candidate for a loral horseshoe."

"That matter looked easy at the time, and I assured the doctor I'd follow his bylaws to the letter. When I went to bed that night, I stretched out on my right side, and in ten minutes I was just suffering to roll over. I don't believe I ever had such a yearning for anything. It seemed to me the height of human happiness would lie in sleeping on one's left side. I followed instructions for two nights, and then I decided that life wasn't worth such sacrifices, and I rolled over and slept on my left side, and nothing happened. I was feeling better than usual next morning when I got up."

"Of course this experience lessened my confidence in the doctor's instructions, and I concluded that if I was going to sidestep the instructions I might as well sidestep the medicines, too, for they tasted like low life in a Chinese alley, and I threw the whole lot out of the window. Thus the swabbers lost his most promising patient because he handed out a rule that wasn't strictly necessary."

"Speaking of the unattainable, do you know what's the matter with Silas Furbelow? He has everything a man could ask, a stranger in the town would say. He has a beautiful home and a wife who would be considered a success anywhere, and he has fountains of money where it will do the most good."

"Yet he has a secret sorrow. I think he's the most melancholy man I ever saw, and his trouble is that he can't raise a good stand of whiskers. Nowadays, when whiskers are considered an infirmity, it seems strange that any man should grieve over such a matter."

"He sends all over the United States for hair growers, and half the time his face is blistered or swollen, and still the whiskers won't grow on him. If some miracle happened, and he woke up some morning to find his countenance all covered with whiskers, he'd probably have them shaved off within a week; but because they won't grow, he won't be happy till he gets them."

Weary of Whirlwinds.

"You don't seem to like the idea of a whirlwind campaign."

"I hate the mere mention of it," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "Maybe you'd find it hard to understand, never havin' lived, as I did, in a part of the country where every once in awhile you have to get out and run for a cyclone cellar."

Plenty of Time.

Teacher—What, Bobby, you say you don't want to be president of the United States?

Bright Lad—Not just now, thanks. If it's all the same to you I'd rather wait until after a couple of more elections.—American Legion Weekly.

His Weak End.

Dear Friend:

The Bible says that "A house divided against itself cannot stand." This statement holds true in regard to poultry with no exception. The mongrel or mixed flock is the house divided within itself and cannot long endure with profit to the owner.

Lawrence county is standardizing in S. C. Rhode Island Red which offers an opportunity to the farmers of this county which they cannot afford to miss. Putnam, California is noted for the quality of poultry and the country are competing to obtain their products because of the quality produced. Lawrence county is a great deal better located than is California and we can attract buyers to this section when we become united and produce a uniform product of the kind the people want. Lawrence county affords just such an opportunity. This breed can withstand the hardships encountered in this county. They are good mothers, good layers and produce fine meat.

What Standardization means to you.

1. It means a county united and working for one purpose.

2. It means a uniform product, which is in great demand.

3. It means better products which will bring better prices.

4. It means the bankers will be interested and be willing to help you.

5. It means that your neighbor will be interested in what you are accomplishing.

If you wish to get into the swim and stand with the majority write a card telling how many eggs or chicks you will want next spring, so we will be able to get our orders in and be sure of having them filled. Don't delay in replying as delays now mean a loss of money later. Eggs will be one dollar per setting same as last year.

Yours very truly,
G. C. BAKER,
County Agent.

Meeting at Georges Creek.

A rousing Farm Bureau meeting was held at Forks of Georges Thursday last week under the auspices of James Fitch, J. H. McClure of Gallup, J. C. Burns of Louisiana, and County Agent Baker were among those coming to assist in the meeting and made short addresses. A large crowd was present and the interest manifested shows that we are waking up to our responsibilities and a realization of what the future holds for us if we are capable of meeting the situation squarely in the face. Every man present except one joined the Farm Bureau for 1921. Other captains of the campaign for membership will do well to follow Mr. Fitch's example and go after the thing in earnest.

If you do not know what your County Bureau is doing, it is high time you were investigating, and by all means getting your name on the list of farmers standing for better agriculture, better schools, good roads, and a square deal to every one. Come to the Farm Bureau meeting at Louisa Jan. 15th, at 1 p. m.

WHAT you lose thru baking failure must be added to baking costs—it has to be paid for.

Calumet Baking Powder will save you all of that. Because when you use it—there are no failures—no losses. Every baking is sweet and palatable—and stays moist, tender and delicious to the last tasty bite.

That's a big saving—but that isn't all. You save when you buy Calumet and you save when you use it.

It is reasonable in cost and possesses more than the ordinary leavening strength. You pay less and use less. You get the most in purity, dependability and wholesomeness.

In every way it is the best way to keep cakes baking. That is what has made it the world's biggest selling baking powder. It has kept the favor of millions of housewives for more than thirty years. Good wholesome bakings can be made only of good materials, no other way, so use only good baking powder and good plain flour (not self rising flour).

Calumet Sunshine Cake Recipe: 1 cup of butter, 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar, 2 1/2 cups flour, 1 cup water, 2 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon lemon, 1 egg, 1/2 cup of 9 eggs. Then mix in the regular way.

DO YOU CATCH COLD EASILY?

Your Vitality Is Low—Resistance Weak

YOU NEED PEPTO-MANGAN

Rich, Red Blood Will Strengthen You and Put You on Your Feet—Able to Resist Colds

Your system normally healthy should never catch cold. Your body is adapted to take care of sudden changes in the weather.

It is when you are run down and your vitality is low that your body cannot adjust itself when you take cold.

If you keep your blood in good condition with plenty of red corpuscles, you will be strong and your body will easily adjust itself to sudden changes. You will throw off the cold germs that go lying into the air when someone with a cold sneezes.

Red-blooded men, women and children all well. They have plenty of energy. They go along with a smile because they feel right.

Try Pepto-Mangan, the successful tonic. It is a wonderful blood builder. Take it for awhile till you feel right.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. It is prepared in both liquid and tablet form. The medicinal properties are the same.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." Ask for it by name, and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.

HITCHINS

On January 1, 1921, about 20 minutes before three o'clock the death angel visited the home of J. R. Savage and claimed him for its victim. He was born and raised in Carter county and was a good and highly respected citizen, age 64 years, 5 months and 5 days. He was sick eleven days with pneumonia. He is survived by his wife and five children, three sons and two daughters. The three boys are Rayburn and Wesley Savage, who are employed by the C. and O. R. R. Co. Rayburn as brakeman, Wesley as conductor and Troy is at Berea college. The two daughters are Lottie and Madge. Lottie is employed at Washington, D. C., and Madge at the Cincinnati Bible School. Everything was done that loving hands could do, but God knew best and called him to that home on high. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him. We will wait until the day breaks and the shadows flee away then we hope to meet him on the sunny banks of sweet deliverance where his heart will never be troubled and where sorrow is no more.

Those who were present when the end came were Dr. T. T. Bays, Jay Blankenship, Mrs. Addie Savage and her three children, Bess, Lona and Harry. He was unconscious for about a day.

A loved one from us has gone. A voice we loved is still. A place is vacant in our home Which never can be filled.

AT SIXTY O'NEIL GAINS 17 POUNDS

OHIO FARMER SAYS AFTER SUFFERING SEVEN YEARS TANCAN HAS RESTORED HIM.

"Tancan certainly is a real medicine, for only a real medicine will make a man of my age gain seventeen pounds in weight and feel as young as I do," said John H. O'Neil, a well known farmer of Darrowville, Ohio, recently.

"For seven years I suffered with stomach trouble and became so badly run down and nervous I could hardly hold to my plow handles. After eating I would turn almost deathly sick and bleed with gas until I could scarcely breathe. I had such dizzy spells at times I couldn't stoop over to hook a trace and would just stagger around until I caught to something."

"I couldn't put in a day's work without having such terrible pains all thru my body I could hardly endure it. It was an effort to do anything, and it seemed that the more medicine I took the worse I got."

"But when I started taking Tancan I soon felt like a new man. I have taken four bottles now and my stomach is in such fine condition I am eating like a horse without suffering, and as I said, I have gained seventeen pounds in weight. The pains have disappeared from my body and I can do a hard day's work and enjoy it. In fact, Tancan has made me feel almost as well as I did at the age of twenty-five, and that's saying a lot for a man of sixty."

Anyway, it is the best medicine I ever ran across, and I'll take it for mine every time."

Tancan is sold in Louisa by Mrs. J. H. Reynolds.

Former Lawrence County Woman Dies in Utah

The following from a Utah paper has been sent us for publication:

On Friday, December 17, 1920, the spirit of Cynthia (Moody) Vernon winged its way to its Maker there to receive its final reward.

The deceased by her estimable traits of character, through all her life, has endeavored herself to all with whom she came in contact.

Mrs. Vernon was the daughter of James and Mary Moody, she was born in Canoe, Burke county, North Carolina, May 4, 1839, and was married to William Cordle in 1854 to which union five children were born, Mrs. Mary J. Justice, Mrs. Ellen C. Griggin, James M. and John A., all being deceased, and Ralph H. now living at Blaine, Ky.

Her husband enlisted in the Union army and lost his life in battle in 1865. In 1866 she was married to William Vernon, in Blaine, Ky.

Seven children were born to them, all of whom are living. They are Mrs. Elizabeth Timothy of Roosevelt, W. P. Vernon, A. J. Vernon, Mrs. Martha Curtis, Mrs. Lillie Singleton, Weston Vernon of Logan, Utah, and T. B. Vernon of Baggs, Wyoming. At about 1877 they joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and in 1882 the family emigrated from Kentucky to Utah and has resided in Utah count ever since.

In 1895 Mrs. Vernon was again left a widow through the death of her husband. Her devotion to her children however, has held the family together as a unit, notwithstanding the fact that the children have separate homes.

For years while living in Kentucky, the Mormon Elders always found hospitable treatment. She was cautious and brave. On one occasion about the year 1879, a mob of about 40 men kicked the door down and entered her home calling for the Mormon Elders.

These Elders were taken from the home about eleven o'clock at night, the leaders of the mob stating emphatically that their (the Elders) lives must pay for the doctrine which they had been promulgating.

It was a dark and dreary night. Immediately after the Elders were taken Mrs. Vernon with a light followed, wading the waters of the creek in order to save the Elders from being killed.

When she arrived within about fifty yards of the place where the mob was going to hang the Elders, she heard the report of two pistol shots. In the face of all this she did not turn back but pushed on through the rain until she could see the faces of the mob.

She told the mob that she knew every one and that they must answer to the law of the land to reach an awful deed.

At this the mob dispersed leaving the Elders to return to the house with her.

This was remarkable because her baby was only ten days old and the wading of the water and being drenched with rain did not cause any illness in the least.

Where in history is there such a parallel of woman courage? She was much devoted to her friends, children, husband and her religion. Her example is worthy of emulation.

Funeral services were held at the Maester ward house Monday at 11 o'clock, Bishop Joseph H. Bodily presiding. Opening prayer was by Robert Bodily. The speakers were N. G. Sowards, James Hacking, and President Don H. Colton, all old friends of the deceased. Benediction was given by John McConkie.

N. G. Sowards when on his mission to the Southern States often was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon who always welcomed him and it was partly through his influence they came to dwell in Utah county.

Many and beautiful were the floral offerings especially a large wreath of cut flowers from the Cache County Board of Education of which Weston Vernon is president.

Interment was made in the Maester cemetery, Heber Timothy from Roosevelt dedicating the grave.

Mr. Vaughan, Farmer, Tells How He Lost All His Price Seed Corn.

"Some time ago sent away for some bedgreed seed corn. Put it in a gunny sack and hung it on a rope suspended from roof. Rats got it all—how beats me, but they did because I got 5 dead whoppers in the morning after trying RAT-SNAP." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Louisa Drug Co., Louisa, L. F. THE BEGINNING OF A BANK-NOTE

Little Marcia's baby dress though made of the finest linen was ultimately worn threadbare. One day it landed in the rag bag and was sold to the junk dealer. When the rag sorter touched the discarded garment he detected in a flash the fine quality of the flax and set it aside for a journey to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington. Eventually it became legal tender—a bank-note. Just how is told in one of the beautiful booklets about Our Government which we are sending each month to those interested.

Just send us your name and address and you will receive a copy of every issue of the series without charge.

Man Jailed For Forgery.
Langusling in the Floyd county jail a man who gives his name as Roy Brown, registered on the jail records as Fred White, alias Fred Brown, finds himself loser of both money and liberty because of having won a forty dollar check in a poker game, according to the prisoner's statement.

The man was arrested after he had tried to cash a check for forty dollars, signed Bob Stewart, payable to cash. When seen at the jail the accused declined to state who were in the alleged poker game, but stated that the check had been gambled for throughout the game and the ownership and part interests in it had changed owners several times at its face value.

Officials at the Bank Josephine stated that the signature to the check in question was not the signature of their depositor.

ANSE HATFIELD

DIES AT AGE 84

PNEUMONIA ENDS CAREER OF NOTORIOUS FUED LEADER OF TUG RIVER BORDER.

Huntington, W. Va.—Devil Anse Hatfield, 84, the last of the famous West Virginia and Kentucky feud chieftains, and the leader of the Hatfield clan which fought a bloody war against the McCoy family, is dead at his home on Main Island Creek, Logan county. The funeral Sunday was the first real gathering of the clansmen since peace was declared between the McCoy and Hatfields thirty years ago. The trouble started in 1890 over the possession of a number of hogs. Probably twenty persons in all were killed. "Devil Anse" was an uncle of former Governor Henry D. Hatfield.

End of Trail.

Ambushed and trailed by the McCoy clan and hunted by officers of the law, "Anse" came to the end of the trail in a home near the little log cabin where he was born.

"Devil Anse" was the first of the Hatfields to engage in the Hatfield-McCoy feud, a quarrel which extended over a score of years.

Starting over a court decision which awarded ownership of a disputed drove of hogs to the Hatfields, the fire burned fiercely until the McCoy's deserted the field, moving over the border line into Kentucky.

The peace, however, did not come until a score of Hatfields and McCoy's had fallen before the deadly snipers of the mountaineers. To the day of his death Anse carried the old title of his feudist days. He never was the "bad man" of the mountain feud novels. His war with the McCoy's in the early '90s was in those days a legitimate war.

"Cap" Hatfield Baptized.

True to the promise made Sunday beside the open grave of his father, "Cap" Hatfield, son of "Devil Anse" Hatfield, was baptized Monday afternoon in the waters of Main Island creek at a spot marked a number of years ago by the immersion of "Devil Anse" himself. The ceremony was in charge of "Uncle Dyke" Garrett, pastor and friend of "Devil Anse" and his sons, with the assistance of Rev. H. V. Schwan, of Huntington, an evangelist now engaged in conducting a revival campaign at Strata, the mining town nearest to the headwaters of Main Island creek.

The veteran Garrett led the penitent "Cap" to the water's edge and there offered the prayer. But, because of his eighty years, he did not go into the creek, the younger evangelist performing the actual act.

Pig Not Cause of Feud.

The death and funeral of the Hatfield patriarch has occasioned a wide discussion of the feud, and its cause among the older people of Logan county. Their statements bear out that made at the funeral by Joe Hatfield, youngest son of "Devil Anse," that the famous pig episode was not the true cause of the feud.

The great warfare between the clans was the outgrowth, they say, of the killing of Ellison Hatfield, brother of Anse, by a party of McCoy's on an election day on Blackberry creek, in Pike county, Kentucky.

There was a fight in which four McCoy's, one a boy of fifteen, were against Ellison Hatfield, who was terribly wounded. The McCoy's were arrested but while they were being taken to the court house Anse Hatfield appeared with a strong contingent and took them from the authorities.

Then, according to one version of the story, they tied them to paw paw bushes and left them under guard while Anse went to the river bank and waited for a signal which was to tell of the outcome of Ellison's wounds.

The signal was to be the howl of an owl, so many times if the sick man was better, another number if he was worse and still another if he was dead. The signal came that told that the wounds had proved fatal.

The news was taken to the place where the McCoy's were held and there the four were slain. There is a story to the effect that the boy was at first spared, but that on second consideration a member of the party went back and added him to the list of dead.

Then the McCoy's took arms and the feud was on. The feud raged for four years but finally subsided with the Hatfields keeping to the West Virginia and the McCoy's to the Kentucky side of Sandy.

A hundred stories of the prowess, the fighting qualities, the wit and, more than all, of the generous hospitality of "Devil Anse" were to be heard among the old timers gathered for court day. Several members of his Confederate army company who were unable to be at the funeral Sunday, were among the commentators at the baptizing.

During the thirty years which he spent as a quiet citizen in his castle at the headquarters of Main Island creek, Anderson Hatfield prospered, so that he died, report says, possessed of a large estate.

RUN OWN MINES

EXPERIMENT OF HUNGARIANS IN WARFIELD COAL FIELD IS INTERESTING.

By Tom Wallace.

Kermit, W. Va.—Early navigators of the Ohio, so runs a legend of the Tug river hills, used to run their steamboats up to this point where, on the Kentucky side, there was an exposed seam of coal. The mate would take a gang of deck hands ashore and with pick and shovel they would lay in the steamer's supply of coal for a trip down the Ohio.

That vein cropped from the hills where just now an interesting social experiment, as well as a promising mining enterprise, is under way.

Across the river from Kermit is the Kentucky settlement, Warfield, where several hundred Hungarians own a mine that is to be worked on shares, each miner a mine owner, each wage-earner a sharer of dividends in a stock company.

This venture is under the direction and patronage of Martin Humber, a Hungarian journalist and philanthropist, the owner and publisher of "Magyar Banzlak," a Hungarian newspaper published in New York. That the enterprise should be undertaken on the Tug river, seems a rebuke to the hoary old axiom, which for several generations has been one of violent hatreds and frequent acts of bloodshed.

Was Feud Area.

Along the river, the water boundary between Kentucky and West Virginia, the Hatfields and the McCoy's waged a war when there was no attempt at enforcing law in this section. Along the river Federal troops and the Kentucky militia were used to keep the peace.
